(54) Title: METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR MODELING BIOLOGICAL SYSTEMS

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to a method and system for quantitative and semi-quantitative modeling of biological and physiological systems. More specifically, the invention relates to the use of overlays to store and manipulate computational biological models. Also provided by the invention are methods and systems for preparing overlays, methods and systems for creating new computational biological models by applying overlays to old models, and computer program products comprising overlays.
